JIM WESTBROOK

FOR COUNTY CLERK

In submitting my name to the voters of Pontotoc county for the office of county clerk, I feel sure and know that I am ably qualified in all respects to fill this office and make you a faithful servant, having served as Deputy County Clerk and having charge of the Commissioners Court four years in Grayson county, Texas, also having served the people as Deputy County Treasurer of Pontotoc County for three years. With this experience I feel that I am as well qualified as any of my opponents and should the voters of Pontotoc county by their votes elect me to this office, I shall appreciate it very highly and shall treat all alike regardless of position he holds and discharge my official duties with all the courtesy an official can and is due by him.

I know that I can do as much office work as any one man in this race and know I can do the work of this office, and if elected shall run this office according to law and to the interest of the people as well, as the law directs.

Now I assure the people of Pontotoc county that if elected your next County Clerk, that I shall devote my whole time to the office and you will always find Jim on hand ready and willing to serve you to his utmost.

Your fair consideration earnestly solicited and hoping to meet all voters before the primaries, I am,
Yours very respectfully,
J. W. WESTBROOK.

The current issue of the Weekly Bulletin distributed by the state university has some stirring accounts of victories won by some of its athletic teams, but it fails to mention the defeat the Norman crowd received at Ada a few evenings ago.

REBELS CAPTURE CITY OF JUAREZ

MEXICAN SITUATION GROWS MORE CRITICAL—MORE TROUBLE IN PROSPECT.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 27.—The important border town of Juarez, which has proven the key to the situation in two former revolutions, fell into the hands of the supporters of Gomez this morning and all municipal and federal offices have been filled by men from the ranks of the invaders. Juarez was the provisional capital both of Benito Juarez and Madero, and Gomez has been asked to come to the city from San Antonio and accept the Provisional presidency of Mexico.

The town, which was defended by a mere handful of men, was taken by a band of between 400 and 700 Vasquistas, as they are termed, under command of Gen. Inez Salazar. They closed in on the city during last night and this morning marched into town, capturing all of the fortifications with arms, ammunition and provisions.

The rebels fired one or two shots from a cannon which they had stationed in the foothills to intimidate the small garrison, and after the capture a squad fired a volley from its guns, two of the bullets striking residences in El Paso. The defenders offered no resistance and gave up their arms on demand.

Immediately after investing the town, Gen. Salazar issued strict orders to his men against looting or insulting foreigners. He said the rights of property must be respected. As soon as he had policed the city and restored order, street car traffic was resumed and tonight the keno games are running and saloons are open.

Salazar has sent messages to other rebel chiefs throughout the district to concentrate their forces at Juarez as soon as possible and says by tomorrow night he will have a force at his disposal large enough to move against Chihuahua, the state capital, which he proposes to capture even if a battle has to be fought with Orozco's command to accomplish it.

He will leave about 300 men here to garrison Juarez and march southward with a force aggregating 1,000. The National railway, which is in the hands of the rebels, will perhaps be used to convey their troops to the vicinity of Chihuahua. If Orozco continues loyal and the influence of Gov. Gonzales is strong enough to hold the Madero troops in line, there may be a battle; otherwise Chihuahua may be taken as easily as Juarez.

The Juarez authorities asserted that they surrendered without fighting because they feared intervention by the United States.

At 9 o'clock tonight all is tranquil in the two cities. United States soldiers are still patrolling the river bank on this side of the line, but all persons who have business are permitted to pass.

Noted Texan Passes Away.

McKinney, Tex., Feb. 27.—Col. Aaron Coffee died here this evening about 7 o'clock, and his funeral will be held here tomorrow afternoon.

Col. Coffee was known for many years as "Old Cotton Planter," under which pen name he wrote much for newspapers and periodicals on the subject of cotton raising, of which he was an extensive planter.

Col. Coffee was about 80 years old at the time of his death, having been born in 1832. He came to Texas first in 1869 living in Brazoria county several years, afterward moving to McKinney. He served several terms in the state senate of Mississippi prior to moving to Texas.

Col. Coffee is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John Church of Dallas.

A. J. Spangler Dead.

The remains of A. J. Spangler, who died at Norman the first of the week, were brought home yesterday and interred at Rosedale cemetery in the afternoon. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Leroy Anderson. Mr. Spangler was well known here, and the public sympathizes with his family in their hour of affliction.

ELECTRIC CO. MAKES A LIBERAL OFFER

Many cities, charged with the proper amount of push and hustle, use large electric signs to tell the traveling public something about themselves. Sapulpa is a case in point. At that place is a large flashlight sign which like a welcome beacon in the night, calls the attention of the world to the greatness of the city and its future.

Now realizing that a sign of that kind would prove of no little value to Ada, F. E. Bowman, manager of the Ada Electric and Gas Co., states that if the citizens will erect a suitable sign of this kind, the company will furnish the electricity to illuminate it free of all charge. Like all other citizens, Mr. Bowman is very proud of Ada's boundless water supply, and suggests that a flashlight sign calling attention to this would be most appropriate, or else one imitating a waterfall might be procured. Of course any number of designs can be found to choose from if the plan is put into execution, and certainly the offer of the company is a liberal one and shows a willingness to do its part in boosting for Ada.

Another thing, not in any way connected with the electric variety of signs, Mr. Bowman favors, and that is the erection of a billboard on each street where the paving crosses the railroad on which is printed a sign calling attention to the fact that the paving is done with Pontotoc county material. These boards would cost very little, and would do good work in advertising a valuable natural resource to the world.

OLD FIDDLERS' CONTEST AT MACON REUNION

Macon, Ga., Feb. 28.—If you are a fiddler there is a good place for you in Macon during the reunion to be held in this city May 7-9. Fiddlers from the ranks of the veterans all over the south are daily writing into reunion headquarters and a movement is on foot among this host all over the south to hold the largest Old Fiddlers' Convention ever held. There are notable fiddlers among the ranks of the veterans and the movement should take well. There are some who could class as violinists but all cling to the title "Old Fiddlers."

WILL DEFER ORGANIZATION OF BUSINESS COLLEGE

In view of the present situation of the local affairs of Ada and surrounding country, caused by the unusual severe cold weather and other local conditions, and in view of the further fact, that there is a strong effort being made by the business men and citizens to organize themselves into clubs and societies, which have for their purposes the looking after and promoting the general welfare of the town along various lines, and since having talked with a number of the business men and citizens, we have decided to defer the further organization, at present, of the Ada Commercial college.

When the weather and other things which largely control and shape the actions of a business community has gotten in a better condition, we will return and perfect the organization. This will give the people ample and sufficient time through their organizations and other sources to assist us in this enterprise. We think, in view of this and other conditions, it would be better for all parties concerned to defer the further organization of the school until some later date, about the first of April, at which time in all probability the people will be better prepared to assist us.

We shall be very glad to return at or before the time indicated and complete the remaining details of the school. Very respectfully,

J. A. LEMON.

LATER—Just before going to press the following notice was received from Prof. Lemon:

It seems that statements have been made to the effect that the organization of the Ada Commercial College has fallen through. We wish to state that arrangements are now being perfected for the opening, which will be the 15th of March. In the mean time all necessary fixtures and furniture for the school will be installed.

G. W. MONTGOMERY FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Geo. W. Montgomery authorizes the News to announce his candidacy for a second term as Commissioner of District No. 2, subject to the democratic primary.

The office of Commissioner is one of the most difficult to fill of any in the county. The Commissioner holds the purse strings of the people and on his judgment much depends. Mr. Montgomery has worked faithfully for the interests of the county, although the present Commissioners have had much to contend with. Especially is this true in the demand of the people for more bridges. The levy made by the county excise board for roads and bridges is very small, and it has been possible to grant only the most urgent needs for bridges. Realizing that true economy consists in continual improvement, Mr. Montgomery favors a policy of this kind, giving the county a chance to develop and thereby attract desirable citizens to Pontotoc county. He believes in economy, but at the same time he believes in progress, and one form of progress is the building of more roads and bridges. However, that matter is largely up to the people themselves, as they alone have the power of voting bonds for these purposes when extensive improvements are under way.

At all events, Mr. Montgomery has no apologies to offer for his administration, and invites a close investigation of his acts during the year he has served the people in that capacity.

Miss Knight's Class Entertained.

Last evening Miss Kate Knight's Bible class of the Presbyterian church, was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wood by Misses Wright, Nims, Wood and Mr. Sugg. The evening was most pleasantly spent playing 42, and the guests were served with delicious salad course and cake.

With the approach of spring Ada should begin to bestir herself and go after some new industries. The exercise will do her good, to say nothing of the stimulating effect it will have if something worth while is secured.

The surest sign of the approach of spring is the appearance of the leading baseball heroes of the country on the sporting pages of the papers.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.
For the convenience of the public, the Evening News will hereafter be on sale at the Post-office News stand for the small sum of 2c. The same rate will prevail at the News office. This is less than the actual cost of the paper, and it is impossible to make the price any lower. The publishers would like to give it away, but every paper costs money to print, and if it is worth reading at all, the News is certainly worth the small sum asked for it.

MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN Gives the Real Facts In Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good. One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.

Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need. We urge you to try it.

AGAINST THE Aiken Bill.

The Aiken Initiated bill to abolish a large number of state schools does not seem to have many supporters in this part of the state. The taxpayers of all classes are unwilling to deny the privilege of education to the thousands of boys and girls of the state. They also seem to think if more economy were practiced in state and county government that the taxes would not be so burdensome as they now are. And they are inclined to the view that this bill has been initiated mainly for the purpose of covering up the unreasonable expenditures in the state government. And they do not think very well of a set of officials that would deny the privileges of education to the girls and boys of the state under a pretense of saving money for the taxpayers, when in reality the money that is now spent in support of the schools would only be squandered elsewhere under a pretense of some legitimate expenditures. And further the taxpayers of all classes in this part of the state believe that educating the boys and girls, really pays. They can point with a great deal of pride to the little state institution at Goodwell and the results accomplished there. While this school has cost the state a very small fraction of the general expenditures for state government it has paid well to the boys and girls and their fathers and mothers of the Panhandle district. And the taxpayers of the Panhandle will not sign the Aiken bill very freely.—Texoma Times.

Poultry for Pleasure.

For the man or woman who is in the office or has a business, he or she can get away from once in a while, or a little part of each day, there is nothing that will give the needed air and exercise like poultry keeping. Chickens as a side line are about the healthiest money makers you can put your time into. It makes no difference whether the fancy side or the meat and eggs side of the business attracts you, the value is just the same one way or the other for the one who needs the benefits. A hobby that will more than pay its way is a profitable hobby. It will make a brighter and more active man out of anyone if he is interested in something besides the daily routine of business.—Oklahoma State farmer.

HOW OUR PRESIDENTS LIVED.

Buchanan Was Only Bachelor—Van Buren's Career Most Varied.

Washington, Jackson, Van Buren, Taylor, Fillmore, Lincoln, Johnson and Cleveland are the presidents who were not college men.

Buchanan was the only bachelor president who remained so Cleveland marrying while in office.

Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams and Buchanan each held the office of secretary of state before being president.

During his career Van Buren was senator, governor, minister to England, vice president and president.

After being president, John Quincy Adams sat in congress, Andrew Johnson became a United States senator. John Tyler was elected to the confederate congress and James Monroe became a justice of the peace of Virginia. No other former presidents have held public office.

Cleveland was sworn in as governor and as president on a Bible given to him by his mother in 1852.

Pierce was the first president born in the nineteenth century.

Jefferson, John Adams and Monroe all died on July 4—the first two in 1826.

Washington and Jackson were the only presidents to deliver farewell addresses.

Van Buren was the first president not born a British subject.

Garfield was a left-handed president. He studied for the ministry and often preached, though he was never ordained.

Theodore Roosevelt has a larger collection of college degrees than any other president ever acquired.

Roosevelt and Taft figure as the only presidents given to regular and systematic athletic practices.

Washington and Jefferson were both notable riders on horseback.

John Quincy Adams, like no other president, rose before sunrise in winter to go bathing in the Potomac. The crowd cheered his vigorous handling of the spade when in 1828, he broke ground for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

There is a pleasant description of Van Buren in old age, small, quick and white-haired, walking briskly through the streets in New York.

Jackson walked and rode, but was not an especially active man.

Lincoln, despite warnings, would walk at midnight, with a single companion, from the war department to the white house.

Washington, in eight years as president, took 181 days to himself. John Adams was away from the seat of government a year and twenty days in four years. Jefferson left the capital 706 times in eight years.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

C. T. Angel is in receipt of a communication from an abstract company at Roswell, New Mexico, which from the fact that it is capitalized at $50,000 must be one of the largest in the state, asking about the laws of Oklahoma, especially the statutes governing the bonding of abstracters. The writer states that they want to find out something about the laws of Oklahoma in view of the legislation they want passed there. Evidently the laws of Oklahoma are proving popular elsewhere, and it is also evident that some advertising matter of the local concern has been traveling some distance.

NORRIS COTTON CROP BECOMING FAMOUS

Some weeks ago the News published a report from P. A. Norris regarding the bumper cotton crop he made on his farm on the outskirts of town last season by following the directions

RYAN AND WAURIKA STILL FIGHTING OVER COUNTY SEAT

Oklahoma City, Ok., Feb. 25.—Guy

Green of Ryan, and Stuart, Cruce & Gilbert, attorneys for the town of Ryan, have a suit ready for filing with the supreme court asking that removal of the Jefferson county records from Ryan to Waurika be restrained, Saturday Governor Cruce issued a proclamation declaring Waurika to be the new county seat of Jefferson county, based upon returns of an election held Feb. 20. This was the third election. The first, in June, 1908, resulted in no town receiving a majority of the votes. The second, September, 1908, between Ryan and Waurika, the supreme court held was of no effect, since eliminating certain questioned votes, neither of the towns received a majority.

Goernor Cruce called a third election, wherein Waurika was the winner by 103 majority and proclamation was issued so announcing. Attorneys for Ryan will rely for their restraining order upon the contention that the Governor had no petition upon which to call the election of Feb. 20; that the election of September, 1908, while ineffectual in determining the county seat location, was nevertheless an election, and that as the proposition was not carried, the question should rest for a period of ten years.

In event it is held that the election of Feb. 20 was properly called, it was subsequent to April, 1909, after which the constitution requires that the winning place must receive two-thirds of the vote.

Ryan also sets up that the calling of the election was delayed until Feb. 20 by no injunction or other legal proceeding on their part, and that Waurika failed to obtain the required percentage of the vote. It is reported here that only a portion of the county records have been moved to Waurika.

In signing the proclamation Gov. Cruce told some of the county officers to follow the court wherein it held its terms.

Term of the District Court is set to begin in Waurika next Monday.

YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores.

Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—The story opens on Long Island near New York City, where Miss Emily French, a relative of Ethan French, manufacturer of the celebrated "Mercury" automobile, loses her way. French is too muddled with drink to direct it aright. They meet another car named Lestrangle. The latter fixes up the French car and directs Miss French how to proceed homeward, but seeing that her cousin is in no condition to accompany her, forcibly detains Dick French, for which the young lady is thankful.

CHAPTER II.—Ethan French has disinherited his son, who has disappeared. He is growing old and tells Emily that she is the only one of the family to whom he can leave his wealth. He informs her plainly that he would like to have her marry Dick, who could carry on the business. Dick is a good-natured, but irresponsible fellow.

CHAPTER III.—It appears that a partner of Ethan French, wanting an expert to race with the "Mercury" at auto events, has engaged Lestrangle, and at the French factory Emily encounters the young man. They refer pleasantly to their first meeting when Dick comes along and recognizes the young racer.

CHAPTER IV.—Dick likes the way Lestrangle ignores their first meeting when he appeared to be a disadvantage. They become quite friendly and Lestrangle tells Emily that he will try to make something out of her indifferent cousin and educate him as an automobile expert.

CHAPTER V.—Dick undertakes his business schooling under the tutelage of Lestrangle. Dick is sheer grit, and in making a test race meets with an accident. Lestrangle sticks to him bravely, and Dick guessing that his friend loves her, disclaims any intention of marrying her.

CHAPTER VI.—Lestrangle comes upon Emily in the moonlit garden of the French home. Under an impulse he cannot control, he kisses her and she leaves him, confessing in her own heart that she returns his love.

"All in readiness for Beach Contest," the head-lines ran. "Last big driver to arrive, Lestrangle is in Mercury camp with R. French, representative of Company."

And there was a blurred picture of a speeding car with driver and mechanic masked to goggles and non-identity, with the legend underneath: "Darling Lestrangle, in his Mercury on the Georgia course."

"Next year I shall make him part owner. It was always my poor brother's desire to have the future name still French and French. He was not thinking of Richard then; he had hope of—"

"Of?" she echoed vaguely.

"Of one who is unworthy thought. Richard has redeemed our family from extinction; that is at rest." He paused for an instant. "My dear child, when you are married and established, I shall be content."

Her breathing quickened, her courage rose to the call of the moment. "If Dick is here, if he is instead of a substitute," she said, carefully quiet in manner, "would it matter, since I am only a girl, whom I married, Uncle Ethan?"

The recollection of that evening when Emily had given her promise of aid, stirred under Mr. French's self-absorption. He looked across the table at her colorless, eager face with perhaps his first thought of what that promise might have cost her.

"No," he replied kindly. "It is part of my satisfaction that you are set free to follow your own choice, without thought of utility or fortune. Of course, I need not say provided the man is of your own class and associations. We will fear no more low marriages."

She had known it before, but it was hard to hear the sentence embodied in words. Emily folded her hands over the paper in her lap and the pleasant breakfast room darkened before her. Mr. French continued speaking of Dick, unheard.

When the long meal was ended and her uncle withdrew to meet Bailey in the library, Emily escaped outdoors. There was a quaint summer house part way down the park, an ancient white pavilion standing beside the brook that gurgled by on its way to the Hudson, where the young girl often passed her hours. She went there now, carrying her little work-basket and the newspaper containing the picture of Lestrangle.

"I will save it," was her thought. "Perhaps I may find better ones—this does not show his face—but I will have this now. It may be a long time before I see him."

But she sat with the embroidery scissors in her hand, nevertheless, without cutting the reprint. Lestrangle would return to the factory, she never doubted, and all would continue as before, except that she must not see him. He would understand that it was not possible for anything else to happen, at least for many years. Perhaps, after Dick was married—

The green and gold beauty of the morning hurt her with the memory of that other sunny morning, when he had so easily taken from her the task she hated and strove to bear. And he had succeeded, how he had succeeded! Who else in the world could have so transformed Dick? Leaning on the table, her round chin in her palm as she gazed down at the paper in her lap, her fancy slipped back to that night on the Long Island road, when she had first seen his serene genius for setting all things right. How like him that elimination of Dick, instead of a romantic and impracticable attempt to escort her himself.

A bush crackled stiffly at some one's passage; a shadow fell across her.

"Caught!" laughed Lestrangle's glad, exultant voice. "Since you look at the portrait, how shall the original fear to present himself? See, I can match." He held out a card burned at the corners and streaked with dull red. "The first time I saw your writing, and found my own name there."

Amazed, Emily sat up, and met in his glowing face all incarnate joy of life and youth.

"Oh!" she gasped piteously.

"You are surprised that I am here? My dear, my dear, after last night did you think I could be anywhere else?"

"The race—"

"I know that track too well to need much practice, and I had the machine out at dawn. My partner is busy practicing this morning, and I'll be back in a couple of hours. I was afraid," the gray eyes were so gentle in their brilliancy, "I was afraid you might worry, Emily."

Serenely he assumed possession of her, and the assumption was very sweet. He had not touched her, yet Emily had the sensation of brutally thrusting him away when she spoke:

"How could I do anything else," she asked with desolation, "since we must never meet each other any more? Only, you will not go far away—you will stay where I can sometimes see you as we pass? I—I think I could not bear it to have you go away."

"Emily!"

The scissors clinked sharply to the floor as she held out her white hands in deprecation of his cry; the tears rushed to her eyes.

"You know, you know! I am not free; I am Emily French. I cannot fail my uncle and grieve him as his son did. Oh, I will never marry any one else, and we will hear of each other; I can read in the papers and Dick will tell me of you. It will be something to be so close, down there and up here."

"Emily!"

"You are not angry? You will not be angry? You know I can do nothing else; please say you know."

He came nearer and took both cold little hands in his clasp, bending to her the shining gravity of his regard.

"Do you think me such a selfish animal, my dear, that I would have kissed you when I could not claim you?" he asked. "Did you think I could forget you were Emily French, even by moonlight?"

Her fair head fell back, her dark eyes questioned his.

"You—mean—"

"I mean that even your uncle cannot deny my inherited quality of gentleman. I am no millionaire incognito."

BLAKE ALLEN CONVICTED

JURY FINDS HIM GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER—PENALTY NOT FIXED.

The Blake Allen murder case was given to the jury late last evening, and about ten o'clock this morning an agreement was reached and a verdict of guilty of manslaughter was returned. The penalty was not fixed but was left to the judge. The maximum in a manslaughter case is ten years and a fine of $1,000. A motion for a new trial was filed by Allen's attorneys, and it is not probable that sentence will be passed until it is disposed of.

Toney Roberts, charged with forgery, withdrew his plea of guilty and entered one of guilty. The court fixed his sentence at two years.

John Harjo and Edmund Morgan, two Indians charged with the theft of a cow from J. B. Self of Francis, were next placed on trial, and the case given to the jury about 3 o'clock. The alleged crime was committed about May 15, 1910.

BROTHERHOOD MEETING AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Last evening the Brotherhood of the Disciples of Christ held its regular meeting at the First Christian church with a good attendance. The devotional part of the program was led by L. T. Walters. This was followed by an address by Prof. J. Frank Lilly on the subject: "Possibility for Good of Moving Picture Machine." It had been expected that Judge T. D. McKeown would deliver an address, but as a night session of court was being held, it was impossible for him to be present. Excellent music was furnished by the young people's orchestra, and at the close of the program the ladies served refreshments.

The Majestic theatre has a splendid program for this evening. One of the attractions is an "Indian Romeo and Juliet." Its plot is similar to that of Shakespeare's masterpiece, but the setting is much more picturesque. A very thrilling love story. Besides this will be a thrilling war drama, entitled: "Brothers in Arms." Either is worth the price of admission and will furnish one with amusement for a solid hour.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS AROUND JESSE

Last fall negroes picking cotton in the vicinity of Jesse received orders to move out and most of them did so. Since then Deputy Sheriff L. M. Chandler of Stonewall has been quietly working on the case, and as result forty-four warrants have been issued for parties living in that vicinity. Twenty arrests were made yesterday and the parties being brought to Ada made bond and were released. The arrests were made by Mr. Chandler and Cal Bolin, and this morning Mr. Bolin returned to Stonewall to complete the round-up.

FRANCIS.

G. W. Gorman's little son about 10 years old died last Friday from meningitis.

The material for the car sheds is here and the railroad company will put the men to work building them.

The Baptist people of town are now building a magnificent five room cottage on Eighth Avenue that will be used as a parsonage.

The Frisco is doing a very large business and almost all the railroad men that want employment are at work.

The last snow and rain that we received has assured us a bumper crop this year and the business men and farmers are all looking for prosperous times next fall.

For the last few days the wood hauler and coal dealer have been doing a land office business but the promise now is for warmer weather.

Oat sowing is about over with our farmers and some have planted potatoes, onions and other vegetables.

People are still coming to Francis and every house full with a great cry for more. We are not able to understand why men with money do not build more houses so that people who want to live in town can be accommodated.

The democratic club failed to meet last Saturday on account of the bad weather. Our next regular meeting will be the second Saturday in March at 2:30 P. M. and all democrats are invited to attend.

J. R. Chandler, a farmer living two miles east of Francis, has entered suit against the sheriff of Hughes county for $1000 damage. While Mr. Chandler was in Holdenville some time ago the sheriff and his deputies arrested him and lodged him in jail for some hours and the plaintiff claims that it damaged him in the above amount.

The Frisco railroad has not enough engines on this division to move the cars that accumulate on the side tracks here.

The school board has closed the schools for one week and longer if needed on account of the meningitis scare.

They are still at work on the second well down at the power plant of the water works and it is hoped that they will soon finish and turn the plant over to the city.

Fire broke out from a defective flue in a small cottage on West Main last Monday morning but was extinguished before much damage was done.

The tax assessor is among us now finding out what we are worth and incidentally feeling of the public pulse over his candidacy. He came to our sanctuary and judging from the way he interrogated us he must have had a poor opinion of the financial ability of news paper reporters. We have always had rather a doubtful opinion of a tax assessor but when we get one with candidate attached as a top story, it is out of the question.

BACON FAVORS POSTPONEMENT OF NATIONAL CONVENTION

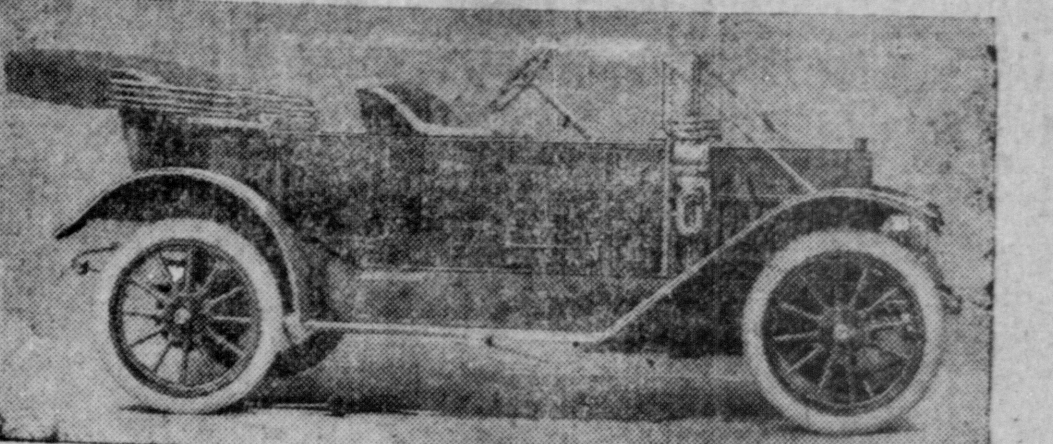

Washington, Feb. 28.—Senator Bacon of Georgia, one of the democratic leaders in the senate today declared in favor of postponing the democratic convention in Baltimore, which has been set for June 25, until a later date, because as now arranged, it would be held only a week after the republican convention in Chicago.

"The entrance of Mr. Roosevelt to the contest for the republican nomination to the presidency," said Senator Bacon, "has so complicated things that I think the democratic national committee should take steps to postpone the time for holding the democratic convention."

For years we have been reading of foreign nations sending warships to China to collect indemnities on account of outrages committed by the Chinese against foreigners. Now the tune is changed and it is China that is beginning to make demands. Mexico has just promised to pay several millions on account of a bunch of Chinamen killed during a Madero revolution, and now comes the announcement that the Chinese government has notified Netherlands that it will attack the city of Batavia in Java unless the Dutch come across with an indemnity for the killing of Chinese subjects by Dutch troops. As the new republic develops its strength there may be something doing for other European nations, and several of them may be forced to disgorge some of their plunder.

G. W. Montgomery, who was in from Lightning Ridge today, stated that his child, attacked by meningitis a short time ago, has about recovered. He informed the News, however, that it was reported at Vanoss this morning that Sam Robertson, who lives two miles west of Vanoss, is now suffering from the malady.

Plenty of Gas in Oklahoma Fields.
Tulsa, Ok., Feb. 27.—In refutation of the recent statement of Geologist Haworth of Kansas that the gas supply of Oklahoma is nearing exhaustion, Daniel W. O'Hern, State Geologist of Oklahoma, after an exhaustive investigation of the state's gas supply declared it is adequate for all purposes for many years to come. Before entering upon an investigation in Oklahoma, Mr. O'Hern spent some time in the gas fields of Pennsylvania and West Virginia in order to arrive at some satisfactory basis upon which to make his estimate here.

Mr. O'Hern declared that even in fields of which Mr. Haworth said the pressure was nearly gone he found a rock pressure in wells of 100 pounds which indicates a gusher. Wells in the vicinity of Collinsville, Cleveland, Tulsa, Muskogee and other fields he found to be holding up. Besides, there is the great Osage territory and other fields, practically undeveloped.

Mr. O'Hern declared the gas outlook in Oklahoma is exceedingly bright and that there is no ground whatever for alarm as to a slump in production.

JIM WESTBROOK FOR COUNTY CLERK

In submitting my name to the voters of Pontotoc county for the office of county clerk, I feel sure and know that I am ably qualified in all respects to fill this office and make you a faithful servant, having served as Deputy County Clerk and having charge of the Commissioners Court four years in Grayson county, Texas, also having served the people as Deputy County Treasurer of Pontotoc County for three years. With this experience I feel that I am as well qualified as any of my opponents and should the voters of Pontotoc county by their votes elect me to this office, I shall appreciate it very highly and shall treat all alike regardless of position he holds and discharge my official duties with all the courtesy an official can and is due by him.

I know that I can do as much office work as any one man in this race and know I can do the work of this office, and if elected shall run this office according to law and to the interest of the people as well, as the law directs.

Now I assure the people of Pontotoc county that if elected your next County Clerk, that I shall devote my whole time to the office and you will always find Jim on hand ready and willing to serve you to his utmost.

Your fair consideration earnestly solicited and hoping to meet all voters before the primaries, I am,
Yours very respectfully,
J. W. WESTBROOK.

The current issue of the Weekly Bulletin distributed by the state university has some stirring accounts of victories won by some of its athletic teams, but it fails to mention the defeat the Norman crowd received at Ada a few evenings ago.

REBELS CAPTURE CITY OF JUAREZ

MEXICAN SITUATION GROWS
MORE CRITICAL—MORE TROUBLE IN PROSPECT.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 27.—The important border town of Juarez, which has proven the key to the situation in two former revolutions, fell into the hands of the supporters of Gomez this morning and all municipal and federal offices have been filled by men from the ranks of the invaders. Juarez was the provisional capital both of Benito Juarez and Madero, and Gomez has been asked to come to the city from San Antonio and accept the Provisional presidency of Mexico.

The town, which was defended by a mere handful of men, was taken by a band of between 400 and 700 Vasquistas, as they are termed, under command of Gen. Inez Salazar. They closed in on the city during last night and this morning marched into town capturing all of the fortifications with arms, ammunition and provisions.

The rebels fired one or two shots from a cannon which they had stationed in the foothills to intimidate the small garrison, and after the capture a squad fired a volley from its guns, two of the bullets striking residences in El Paso. The defenders offered no resistance and gave up their arms on demand.

Immediately after investing the town, Gen. Salazar issued strict orders to his men against looting or insulting foreigners. He said the rights of property must be respected. As soon as he had policed the city and restored order, street car traffic was resumed and tonight the keno games are running and saloons are open.

Salazar has sent messages to other rebel chiefs throughout the district to concentrate their forces at Juarez as soon as possible and says by tomorrow night he will have a force at his disposal large enough to move against Chihuahua, the state capital, which he proposes to capture even if a battle has to be fought with Orozco's command to accomplish it.

He will leave about 300 men here to garrison Juarez and march southward with a force aggregating 1,000. The National railway, which is in the hands of the rebels, will perhaps be used to convey their troops to the vicinity of Chihuahua. If Orozco continues loyal and the influence of Gov. Gonzales is strong enough to hold the Madero troops in line, there may be a battle; otherwise Chihuahua may be taken as easily as Juarez.

The Juarez authorities asserted that they surrendered without fighting because they feared intervention by the United States.

At 9 o'clock tonight all is tranquil in the two cities. United States soldiers are still patrolling the river bank on this side of the line, but all persons who have business are permitted to pass.

Noted Texan Passes Away.

McKinney, Tex., Feb. 27.—Col. Aaron Coffee died here this evening about 7 o'clock, and his funeral will be held here tomorrow afternoon.

Col. Coffee was known for many years as "Old Cotton Planter," under which pen name he wrote much for newspapers and periodicals on the subject of cotton raising, of which he was an extensive planter.

Col. Coffee was about 80 years old at the time of his death, having been born in 1832. He came to Texas first in 1869 living in Brazoria county several years, afterward moving to McKinney. He served several terms in the state senate of Mississippi prior to moving to Texas.

Col. Coffee is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John Church of Dallas.

A. J. Spangler Dead.

The remains of A. J. Spangler, who died at Norman the first of the week, were brought home yesterday and interred at Rosedale cemetery in the afternoon. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Leroy Anderson. Mr. Spangler was well known here, and the public sympathizes with his family in their hour of affliction.

ELECTRIC CO. MAKES A LIBERAL OFFER

Many cities, charged with the proper amount of push and hustle, use large electric signs to tell the traveling public something about themselves. Sapulpa is a case in point. At that place is a large flashlight sign which like a welcome beacon in the night, calls the attention of the world to the greatness of the city and its future.

Now realizing that a sign of that kind would prove of no little value to Ada, F. E. Bowman, manager of the Ada Electric and Gas Co., states that if the citizens will erect a suitable sign of this kind, the company will furnish the electricity to illuminate it free of all charge. Like all other citizens, Mr. Bowman is very proud of Ada's boundless water supply, and suggests that a flashlight sign calling attention to this would be most appropriate, or else one imitating a waterfall might be procured. Of course any number of designs can be found to choose from if the plan is put into execution, and certainly the offer of the company is a liberal one and shows a willingness to do its part in boosting for Ada.

Another thing, not in any way connected with the electric variety of signs, Mr. Bowman favors, and that is the erection of a billboard on each street where the paving crosses the railroad on which is printed a sign calling attention to the fact that the paving is done with Pontotoc county material. These boards would cost very little, and would do good work in advertising a valuable natural resource to the world.

OLD FIDDLERS' CONTEST

AT MACON REUNION
Macon, Ga., Feb. 28.—If you are a fiddler there is a good place for you in Macon during the reunion to be held in this city May 7-9. Fiddlers from the ranks of the veterans all over the south are daily writing into reunion headquarters and a movement is on foot among this host all over the south to hold the largest Old Fiddlers' Convention ever held. There are notable fiddlers among the ranks of the veterans and the movement should take well. There are some who could class as violinists but all cling to the title "Old Fiddlers."

WILL DEFER ORGANIZATION OF BUSINESS COLLEGE

In view of the present situation of the local affairs of Ada and surrounding country, caused by the unusual severe cold weather and other local conditions, and in view of the further fact, that there is a strong effort being made by the business men and citizens to organize themselves into clubs and societies, which have for their purposes the looking after and promoting the general welfare of the town along various lines, and since having talked with a number of the business men and citizens, we have decided to defer the further organization, at present, of the Ada Commercial college.

When the weather and other things which largely control and shape the actions of a business community has gotten in a better condition, we will return and perfect the organization. This will give the people ample and sufficient time through their organizations and other sources to assist us in this enterprise. We think, in view of this and other conditions, it would be better for all parties concerned to defer the further organization of the school until some later date, about the first of April, at which time in all probability the people will be better prepared to assist us.

We shall be very glad to return at or before the time indicated and complete the remaining details of the school. Very respectfully,

J. A. LEMON.

LATER—Just before going to press the following notice was received from Prof. Lemon:

It seems that statements have been made to the effect that the organization of the Ada Commercial College has fallen through. We wish to state that arrangements are now being perfected for the opening, which will be the 15th of March. In the mean time all necessary fixtures and furniture for the school will be installed.

G. W. MONTGOMERY FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

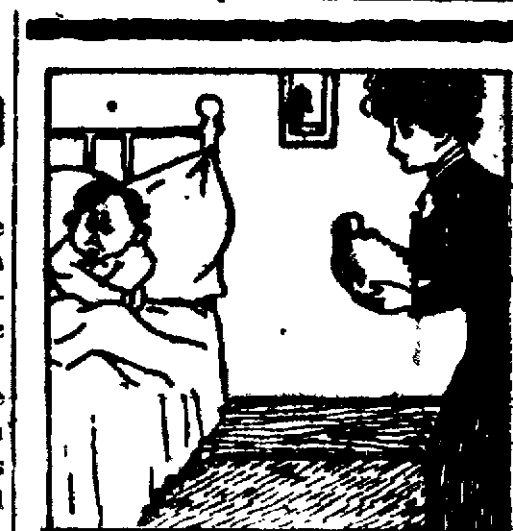

Geo. W. Montgomery authorizes the News to announce his candidacy for a second term as Commissioner of District No. 2, subject to the democratic primary.

The office of Commissioner is one of the most difficult to fill of any in the county. The Commissioner holds the purse strings of the people and on his judgment much depends. Mr. Montgomery has worked faithfully for the interests of the county, although the present Commissioners have had much to contend with. Especially is this true in the demand of the people for more bridges. The levy made by the county exchequer board for roads and bridges is very small, and it has been possible to grant only the most urgent needs for bridges. Realizing that true economy consists in continual improvement, Mr. Montgomery favors a policy of this kind, giving the country a chance to develop and thereby attract desirable citizens to Pontotoc county. He believes in economy, but at the same time he believes in progress, and one form of progress is the building of more roads and bridges. However, that matter is largely up to the people themselves, as they alone have the power of voting bonds for these purposes when extensive improvements are under way.

At all events, Mr. Montgomery has no apologies to offer for his administration, and invites a close investigation of his acts during the year he has served the people in that capacity.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.
 For the convenience of the public, the Evening News will hereafter be on sale at the Post-office News stand for the small sum of 2c. The same rate will prevail at the News Office. This is less than the actual cost of the paper, and it is impossible to make the price any lower. The publishers would like to give it away, but every paper costs money to print, and if it is worth reading at all, the News is certainly worth the small sum asked for it.

BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts in Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good. One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui. Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need. We urge you to try it.

AGAINST THE Aikin Bill.

The Aikin initiated bill to abolish a large number of state schools does not seem to have many supporters in this part of the state. The taxpayers of all classes are unwilling to deny the privilege of education to the thousands of boys and girls of the state. They also seem to think if more economy were practiced in state and county government that the taxes would not be so burdensome as they now are. And they are inclined to the view that this bill has been initiated mainly for the purpose of covering up the unreasonable expenditures in the state government. And they do not think very well of a set of officials that would deny the privileges of education to the girls and boys of the state under a pretense of saving money for the taxpayers, when in reality the money that is now spent in penance of some legitimate expenditures. And further the taxpayers of all classes in this part of the state believe that educating the boys and girls, really pays. They can point with a great deal of pride to the little state institution at Goodwell and the results accomplished there. While this school has cost the state a very small fraction of the general expenditures for state government it has paid well to the boys and girls and their fathers and mothers of the Panhandle district. And the taxpayers of the Panhandle will not sign the Aiken bill very freely.—Texoma Times.

Poultry for Pleasure.

For the man or woman who is in the office or has a business, he or she can get away, from once in a while, or a little part of each day, there is nothing that will give the needed air and exercise like poultry keeping. Chickens as a side line are about the healthiest money makers you can put your time into. It makes no difference whether the fancy side or the meat and eggs side of the business attracts you, the value is just the same one way or the other for the one who needs the benefits. A hobby that will more than pay its way is a profitable hobby. It will make a brighter and more active man out of anyone if he is interested in something besides the daily routine of business.—Oklahoma State farmer.

HOW OUR PRESIDENTS LIVED.

Buchanan Was Only Bachelor—Van Buren's Career Most Varied.

Washington, Jackson, Van Buren, Taylor, Fillmore, Lincoln, Johnson and Cleveland are the presidents who were not college men.

Buchanan was the only bachelor president who remained so Cleveland marrying while in office.

Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams and Buchanan each held the office of secretary of state before being president.

During his career Van Buren was senator, governor, minister to England, vice president and president.

After being president, John Quincy Adams sat in congress, Andrew Johnson became a United States senator. John Tyler was elected to the confederate congress and James Monroe became a justice of the peace of Virginia. No other former presidents have held public office.

Cleveland was sworn in as governor and as president on a Bible given to him by his mother in 1892.

Pierce was the first president born in the nineteenth century.

Jefferson, John Adams and Monroe all died on July 4—the first two in 1826.

Washington and Jackson were the only presidents to deliver farewell addresses.

Van Buren was the first president not born a British subject.

Garfield was a left-handed president. He studied for the ministry and often preached, though he was never ordained.

Theodore Roosevelt has a larger collection of college degrees than any other president ever acquired.

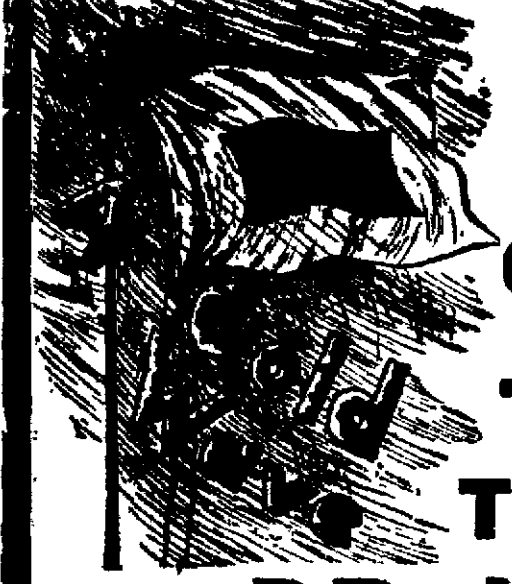

Roosevelt and Taft figure as the only presidents given to regular and systematic athletic practices.

Washington and Jefferson were both notable riders on horseback.

John Quincy Adams, like no other president, rose before sunrise in w weather to go bathing in the Potomac. The crowd cheered his vigorous handling of the spade when in 1828, he broke ground for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

There is a pleasant description of Van Buren in old age, small, quick and white-haired, walking briskly through the streets in New York. Jackson walked and rode, but was not an especially active man.

Lincoln, despite warnings, would walk at midnight, with a single companion, from the war department to the white house.

RYAN AND WAURIKA STILL FIGHTING OVER COUNTY SEAT

Oklahoma City, Ok., Feb. 25.—Guy

Green of Ryan, and Stuart, Cruce & Gilbert, attorneys for the town of Ryan, have a suit ready for filing with the supreme court asking that removal of the Jefferson county records from Ryan to Waurika be restrained, Saturday Governor Cruce issued a proclamation declaring Waurika to be the new county seat of Jefferson county, based upon returns of an election held Feb. 20. This was the third election. The first, in June, 1908, resulted in no town receiving a majority of the votes. The second, September, 1908, between Ryan and Waurika, the supreme court held was of no effect, since eliminating certain questioned votes, neither of the towns received a majority.

Governor Cruce called a third election, wherein Waurika was the winner by 103 majority and proclamation was issued so announcing.

Attorneys for Ryan will rely for their restraining order upon the contention that the Governor had no petition upon which to call the election of Feb. 20; that the election of September, 1908, while ineffectual in determining the county seat location, was nevertheless an election, and that as the proposition was not carried, the question should rest for a period of ten years.

In event it is held that the election of Feb. 20 was properly called, it was subsequent to April, 1909, after which the constitution requires that the winning place must receive two-thirds of the vote.

Ryan also sets up that the calling of the election was delayed until Feb. 20 by no injunction or other legal proceeding on their part, and that Waurika failed to obtain the required percentage of the vote. It is reported here that only a portion of the county records have been moved to Waurika.

In signing the proclamation Gov. Cruce told some of the county officers to follow the court wherein it held its terms.

Term of the District Court is set to begin in Waurika next Monday.

YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all the tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Adams, Ga.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—The story opens on Long Island near New York City, where Miss Emily French, a relative of Ethan French, manufacturer of the celebrated "Mercury" automobile, loses her way. The car has stopped and her cousin Dick French is too muddled with drink to direct it aright. They meet another car which is run by a professional racer named Lestrangle. The latter fixes up the French car and directs Miss French how to proceed homeward, but seeing company her, forcibly detains Dick French, for which the young lady is thankful.

CHAPTER II.—Ethan French has disappeared his son, who has disappeared. He is growing old and tells Emily that she is the only one of the family to whom he can leave his wealth. He informs her plainly that he would like to have her marry Dick, who could carry on the business. Dick is a good-natured, but irresponsible fellow.

CHAPTER III.—It appears that a party of Ethan French, wanting an expert to race with the "Mercury" at auto events, has engaged Lestrangle, and at the French factory Emily encounters the young man. They refer pleasantly to their first meeting when Dick comes along and recognizes the young racer.

CHAPTER IV.—Dick likes the way Lestrangle ignores their first meeting when he appeared to a disadvantage. They become quite friendly and Lestrangle tells Emily that he will try to make something out of her indifferent cousin and educate him to an automobile expert.

CHAPTER V.—Dick undertakes his business schooling under the tutelage of Lestrangle. Dick is sheer grit, and in making a race meets with an accident. Lestrangle sticks to him bravely and Dick guessing that his friend loves him, declares any intention of marrying her.

CHAPTER VI.—Lestrangle comes upon Emily in the moonlit garden of the French home. Under an impulse he cannot control he kisses her and she leaves him, confessing in her own heart that she returns his love.

"All in readiness for Beach Contest," the headlines ran. "Last big driver to arrive, Lestrangle is in Mercury camp with R. French, representative of Company."

And there was a blurred picture of a speeding car with driver and mechanic masked to glibness non-identity, with the legend underneath: "Darling" Lestrangle, in his Mercury on the Georgia course."

"Next year I shall make him part owner. It was always my poor brother's desire to have the future name still French and French. He was not thinking of Richard then; he had hope of—"

"Of?" she echoed vaguely. "Of one who is unworthy thought. Richard has redeemed our family from extinction; that is at rest." He purred for an instant. "My dear child, when you are married and established, I shall be content."

Her breathing quickened, her courage rose to the call of the moment.

"If Dick is here, if he is instead of a substitute," she said, carefully quiet in manner, "would it matter, since I am only a girl, whom I married, Uncle Ethan?"

The recollection of that evening when Emily had given her promise of aid, stirred under Mr. French's self-absorption. He looked across the table at her colorless, eager face with perhaps his first thought of what that promise might have cost her.

"No," he replied kindly. "It is part of my satisfaction that you are set free to follow your own choice, without thought of utility or fortune. Of course, I need not say provided the man is of your own class and associations. We will fear no more low marriages."

She had known it before, but it was hard to hear the sentence embodied in words. Emily folded her hands over the paper in her lap and the pleasant breakfast room darkened before her. Mr. French continued speaking of Dick, unheard.

When the long meal was ended and her uncle withdrew to meet Bailey in the library, Emily escaped outdoors. There was a quiet summer house part way down the park, an ancient white pavilion standing beside the brook that gurgled by on its way to the Hudson, where the young girl often passed her hours. She went there now, carrying her little workbasket and the newspaper containing the picture of Lestrangle.

"Perhaps I may find better ones—she does not show his face—but I will have this now. It may be a long time before I see him."

But she sat with the embroidery scissors in her hand, nevertheless, without cutting the reprint. Lestrangle would return to the factory, she never doubted, and all would continue as before, except that she must not see him. He would understand that it was not possible for anything else to happen, at least for many years. Perhaps, after Dick was married—

The green and gold beauty of the morning hurt her with the memory of that other sunny morning, when he had so easily taken from her the task she hated and strove to bear. And he had succeeded, how he had succeeded! Who else in the world could have so transformed Dick? Leaning on the table, her round chin in her palm as she gazed down at the paper in her lap, her fancy slipped back to that night on the Long Island road, when she had first seen his serene genius for setting all things right. How like him that elimination of Dick, instead of a romantic and impracticable attempt to escort her himself.

A bush crackled stiffly at one's passage; a shadow fell across her.

"Caught!" laughed Lestrangle's glad, exultant voice. "Since you look at the portrait, how shall the original fear to present himself? See, I can match." He held out a card burned at the corners and streaked with dull red. "The first time I saw your writing, and found my own name there."

Amazed, Emily sat up, and met in his glowing face all incarnate joy of life and youth.

"Oh!" she gasped pitiously.

"You are surprised that I am here?"

"My dear, my dear, after last night did you think I could be anywhere else?"

"The race—"

"I know that track too well to need much practice, and I had the machine out at dawn. My partner is busy practicing this morning, and I'll be back in a couple of hours. I was afraid," the gray eyes were so gentle in their brilliancy, "I was afraid you might worry, Emily."

Serenely he assumed possession of her, and the assumption was very sweet. He had not touched her, yet Emily had the sensation of brutally thrusting him away when she spoke.

"How could I do anything else," she asked with desolation, "since we must never meet each other any more? Only, you will not go far away—you will stay where I can sometimes see you as we pass? I—I think I could not bear it to have you go away."

"Emily!" The scissors clinked sharply to the floor as she held out her white hands in deprecation of his cry; the tears rushed to her eyes.

"You know, you know! I am not free; I am Emily French. I cannot fail my uncle and grieve him as his son did. Oh, I will never marry any one else, and we will hear of each other. I can read in the papers and Dick will tell me of you. It will be something to be so close, down there and up here."

"Dick Will Tell Me of You."

"Emily!"

"You are not angry? You will not be angry? You know I can do nothing else; please say you know."

He came nearer and took both cold little hands in his clasp, bending to her the shining gravity of his regard.

"Do you think me such a selfish animal, my dear, that I would have kissed you when I could not claim you?" he asked. "Did you think I could forget you were Emily French, even by moonlight?"

Her fair head fell back, her dark eyes questioned his.

"You—mean—"

"I mean that even your uncle cannot deny my inherited quality of gentleman. I am no millionaire incognito."

BLAKE ALLEN CONVICTED

JURY FINDS HIM GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER—PENALTY NOT FIXED.

The Blake Allen murder case was given to the jury late last evening, and about ten o'clock this morning an agreement was reached and a verdict of guilty of manslaughter was returned. The penalty was not fixed but was left to the judge. The maximum in a manslaughter case is ten years and a fine of $1,000. A motion for a new trial was filed by Allen's attorneys, and it is not probable that sentence will be passed until it is disposed of.

Toney Roberts, charged with forgery, withdrew his plea of guilty and entered one of guilty. The court fixed his sentence at two years.

John Harjo and Edmund Morgan, two Indians charged with the theft of a cow from J. B. Self of Francis, were next placed on trial, and the case given to the jury about 3 o'clock. The alleged crime was committed about May 15, 1910.

BROTHERHOOD MEETING AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Last evening the Brotherhood of the Disciples of Christ held its regular meeting at the First Christian church with a good attendance. The devotional part of the program was led by L. T. Walters. This was followed by an address by Prof. J. Frank Lilly on the subject: "Possibility for Good of Moving Picture Machine." It had been expected that Judge T. D. McKeown would deliver an address, but as a night session of court was being held, it was impossible for him to be present. Excellent music was furnished by the young people's orchestra, and at the close of the program the ladies served refreshments.

The Majestic theatre has a splendid program for this evening. One of the attractions is an "Indian Romeo and Juliet." Its plot is similar to that of Shakespeare's masterpiece, but the setting is much more picturesque. A very thrilling love story. Besides this will be a thrilling war drama, entitled: "Brothers in Arms." Either is worth the price of admission and will furnish one with amusement for a solid hour.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS AROUND JESSE

Last fall negroes picking cotton in the vicinity of Jesse received orders to move out and most of them did so. Since then Deputy Sheriff L. M. Chandler of Stonewall has been quietly working on the case, and as a result forty-four warrants have been issued for parties living in that vicinity. Twenty arrests were made yesterday and the parties being brought to Ada made bond and were released. The arrests were made by Mr. Chandler and Cal Bolin, and this morning Mr. Bolin returned to Stonewall to complete the round-up.

G. W. Gorman's little son about 10 years old died last Friday from meningitis.

The material for the car sheds is here and the railroad company will put the men to work building them.

The Baptist people of town are now building a magnificent five room cottage on Eighth Avenue that will be used as a parsonage.

The Frisco is doing a very large business and almost all the railroad men that want employment are at work.

The last snow and rain that we received has assured us a bumper crop this year and the business men and farmers are all looking for prosperous times next fall.

For the last few days the wood hauler and coal dealer have been doing a land office business but the promise now is for warmer weather.

Oat sowing is about over with our farmers and some have planted potatoes, onions and other vegetables.

People are still coming to Francis and every house full with a great cry for more. We are not able to understand why men with money do not build more houses so that people who want to live in town can be accommodated.

The democratic club failed to meet last Saturday on account of the bad weather. Our next regular meeting will be the second Saturday in March at 2:30 P. M. and all democrats are invited to attend.

J. R. Chandler, a farmer living two miles east of Francis, has entered suit against the sheriff of Hughes county for $1000 damage. While Mr. Chandler was in Holdenville some time ago the sheriff and his deputies arrested him and lodged him in jail for some hours and the plaintiff claims that it damaged him in the above amount.

The Frisco railroad has not enough engines on this division to move the cars that accumulate on the side tracks here.

The school board has closed the schools for one week and longer if needed on account of the meningitis scare.

They are still at work on the second well down at the power plant of the water works and it is hoped that they will soon finish and turn the plant over to the city.

Fire broke out from a defective flue in a small cottage on West Main last Monday morning but was extinguished before much damage was done.

The tax assessor is among us now finding out what we are worth and incidentally feeling of the public pulse over his candidacy. He came to our sanctuary and judging from the way he interrogated us he must have had a poor opinion of the financial ability of news paper reporters. We have always had rather a doubtful opinion of a tax assessor but when we get one with candidate attached as a top story, it is out of the question.

BACON FAVORS POSTPONEMENT OF NATIONAL CONVENTION

Washington, Feb. 23.—Senator Bacon of Georgia, one of the democratic leaders in the senate today declared in favor of postponing the democratic convention in Baltimore, which has been set for June 25, until a later date, because as now arranged, it would be held only a week after the republican convention in Chicago.

"The entrance of Mr. Roosevelt to the contest for the republican nomination to the presidency," said Senator Bacon, "has so complicated things that I think the democratic national committee should take steps to postpone the time for holding the democratic convention."

For years we have been reading of foreign nations sending warships to China to collect indemnities on account of outrages committed by the Chinese against foreigners. Now the tune is changed and it is China that is beginning to make demands. Mexico has just promised to pay several millions on account of a bunch of Chinamen killed during a Madero revolution, and now comes the announcement that the Chinese government has notified Netherlands that it will attack the city of Batavia in Java unless the Dutch come across with an indemnity for the killing of Chinese subjects by Dutch troops. As the new republic develops its strength there may be something doing for other European nations, and several of them may be forced to disgorge some of their plunder.

G. W. Montgomery, who was in from Lightning Ridge today, stated that his child, attacked by meningitis a short time ago, has about recovered. He informed the News, however, that it was reported at Vantage this morning that Sam Robertson, who lives two miles west of Vantage, is now suffering from the malady.

Plenty of Gas in Oklahoma Fields.

Tulsa, Ok., Feb. 27.—In refutation of the recent statement of Geologist Haworth of Kansas that the gas supply of Oklahoma is nearing exhaustion, Daniel W. O'Hern, State Geologist of Oklahoma, after an exhaustive investigation of the state's gas supply declared it is adequate for all purposes for many years to come. Before entering upon an investigation in Oklahoma, Mr. O'Hern spent some time in the gas fields of Pennsylvania and West Virginia in order to arrive at some satisfactory basis upon which to make his estimate here.

Mr. O'Hern declared that even in fields of which Mr. Haworth said the pressure was nearly gone he found a rock pressure in wells of 100 pounds which indicates a gusher. Wells in the vicinity of Collinsville, Cleveland, Tulsa, Muskogee and other fields he found to be holding up. Besides, there is the great Osage territory and other fields, practically undeveloped.

Mr. O'Hern declared the gas outlook in Oklahoma is exceedingly bright and that there is no ground whatever for alarm as to a slump in production.

The People Who Put The Price Down

— ADAM OKE —

Rebels Threaten Mexico City.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 28.—Antonio Rojas and nine hundred Vasquistas reached Juarez today to join rebels who captured the town yesterday. This united the forces of Inez Salazar, Ello Campa and Antonio Rojas. They declare that within a few days they will march southward against Chihuahua and if successful they will continue to Mexico City.

Absolute quiet reigns in Juarez. The street cars are running and traffic with El Paso has been resumed.

Mexican Consul Llorente says the port of Juarez is closed officially and estimates that the United States will recognize this in return for Mexico's consideration in surrendering the town rather than have a battle that might endanger El Paso.

United States customs officers declare the port of Juarez is open as usual so far as they are concerned.

After General Salazar had appropriated a train of thirty-three freight cars to move his army against Chihuahua Wednesday, railroad officials of both the Mexican Central and Mexican Northwestern ran the motive power in the Juarez yards to the American side. The equipment was brought to El Paso shortly after noon Wednesday.

The men will entrain at Juarez Friday and go south to attack Chihuahua, 200 men are to be left to hold Juarez, according to their present plan.

Sorosis Announcement.

Sorosis will meet in regular session Friday, March 1st, with Mrs. Constant. The lesson will be a short review of Act III, Scene 4, and Act IV.

FIGHT OVER QUESTION OF PAYING FOR SEIZED COTTON

Washington, Feb. 28.—The senate committee on War Claims today decided to report favorably the Overman resolution requiring the secretary of the treasury to transmit to the senate a report showing what persons sold or agreed to sell to the confederate government cotton, together with the county or parish and state in which the cotton was found, and the price. This information is vital to the claimants who have brought action in the court of claims for cotton seized.

In 1877 Lott M. Morrow, then secretary of the treasury, reported that all this information was then available and ready for submission to congress, but that it should not be made public because it would promote litigation. The data asked for in the Overman resolution would show the exact status of the history of the cotton impressment by the Confederate government and the seizure by the federal government.

In 1863 the Confederate government enacted a law authorizing its agents to exchange with owners of cotton Confederate bonds for the current price. In the event the owner declined to sell, the agents could impress the cotton upon the same terms. In a great majority of cases the parties willingly sold to the Confederate government for bonds. In all these cases, where the Confederate government was not ready to receive the cotton at the time, a contract was entered into with the vendor by which he agreed to hold the cotton as bailee of the Confederate Government. In this case the United States contends that the sale was complete and that when the Confederacy went out of existence the United States, by right of conquest, succeeded to all of the rights and all of the

EASY AND SURE WAY TO CURE COLDS

Don't Neglect a Cold, Stop It in the Sneezing Stage—Use Ely's Cream Balm.

A cold generally attacks the weakest part, affecting the eyes and ears in some and producing nasal catarrh and throat troubles in others. A cold is due to an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages, and may be promptly cured with Ely's Cream Balm, which immediately removes the inflammation and all the distressing symptoms such as sneezing, coughing, running at the nose and eyes, hoarseness, sore throat, fever and headache. One reason why this pure, antiseptic Balm acts so quickly is because it is applied directly to the tender, sore surfaces.

Even in severe, chronic cases of catarrh, Ely's Cream Balm never fails to quickly and effectually check the poisonous discharge which clogs the head and throat, causing the disgusting hawking, spitting and blowing of the nose. This remedy not only drives out the rottenness, but heals and strengthens the weakened and diseased membranes, thus ending catarrh for all time.

Catarrh is a filthy, disgusting disease. Don't put up with another day. Get a 50 cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist today.

JONES DRUG CO.
ON THE CORNER

(By M. J. Jones.)
Washington, Feb. 23.—Democratic leaders in congress are steering their control of legislation in the middle of the straight and narrow path. Danger that are thrust at them from the republicans have so far been strategically avoided. Democratic house leaders are playing the political game these days for all there is in it, and with a rapidity and skill that has caused consternation in the republican camp.

It is true that the plans of the democrats have not escaped the vigilance of the old guard republicans, but many of the newly elected republicans in both the house and the senate who have not had the experience that their older colleagues enjoy show no signs of realizing what is happening, or of understanding the effect on the country of the program the democratic house leaders are trying to put through. But the more progressive and broad-gauged republicans do understand the situation and they do not conceal their anxiety over it.

According to the gossip in the congressional cloakrooms, the democratic leaders in the house have shown a capacity for good legislation that was not generally anticipated. They have dealt with various measures brought up for discussion in a way to give entire satisfaction to the country at large, and have done so about their duties in a conscientious and statesman-like manner. They have surprised their republican colleagues by their manner of taking hold of the control of legislation.

Their decision to reduce the duties on a long list of necessities of life, and the plan to revise the tariff schedules, particularly those relating to wool and cotton, which will undoubtedly be carried out, will unquestionably have the approval of the voters of the country at large.

From the way that things are going now in the Halls of Congress it is the general opinion that the democrats are going to do exactly what they said they would do at election time, and those things that the public demands. Consequently in the campaign of 1912 the independent voters will not forget the activities of the democrats along these lines when the democratic candidate is put up for election to succeed President Taft in the White House.

Naturally the question has risen and been much discussed: What are the republicans doing to win the popularity of the people and to counteract the prestige that the democrats are obtaining by their policies?

Nothing. This is the general opinion in Washington.

As far as the situation looks today the republicans in the house and senate show no indications that they are doing anything adequate to meet the conditions. On the other hand, they have been accused of following an obstructionist policy, especially in the house, but owing to a democratic majority their efforts are unavailing. In the senate, where the progressive republicans hold the balance of power, there is no disposition on the part of the republican senators to yield anything in tariff reduction that is not compulsory. This is shown conclusively by the determination of the "regulars" in the senate to insist on keeping control of the finance committee, and to bring in a high tariff measure, protecting the ideas advanced by Senator Aldrich and other high protectionists. On campaign publicity, on direct election of senators, and other questions apart from the tariff, the regular republican leaders are pursuing and will continue to pursue a course of obstruction and delay. It has been stated by some of the republicans that the party is playing right into the hands of the democratic leaders by pursuing these tactics.

To make matters worse for the republican leaders former Speaker Cannon is causing a rumpus. "Uncle Joe" has been criticizing the work of the house and seeking to justify his own course while speaker. Some of his colleagues do not like this.

The house republican progressives are also worried over the outlook. They admit that they are in danger of being lost sight of, and their only remedy is to adopt a progressive course.

In view of the manner in which the democrats have started their campaign of redemption and rehabilitation, indications now are that they will sweep the country in 1912. This is the gloomy view held by a large following in the republican ranks. Even the prediction in republican circles that President Taft's reelection is doubtful has gathered weight to an almost unbelievable degree. It is not difficult to see that an obstructive program on the part of the republican leaders in congress

Before any sore can heal, the cause which produces it must be removed. As long as the blood, from which our systems receive their necessary nourishment and strength, remains impure and contaminated with disease germs, any old sore on the body will remain open, and resist every effort made to heal it. The nerves and tissues of the flesh around the places are continually fed with unhealthy matter and nature is simply disposing of the poison by draining it from the system through the sore. The only cure for an old sore is a thorough cleansing of the blood, entirely ridding the system of the cause. S. S. S. heals old sores by removing every particle of impurity from the circulation. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and so completely cleanses the circulation that there is no longer any impurity to drain through the sore, but the place is once more nourished with rich, healthful blood. S. S. S. heals the sore from the bottom, the place soon fills in with healthy, firm flesh, the tenderness leaves, all discharge ceases, the skin regains its natural color and when S. S. S. has thoroughly cleansed and purified the blood the place is permanently healed. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

will have but one effect—to help the democrats.

Consequently democrats in the house are jubilant over the situation and regard the presidential campaign as easy sailing for them.

BOOTLEGGERS ADOPT NEW METHODS OF BUSINESS

Muskogee, Ok., Feb. 28.—The reeling privilege granted by railroad companies on perishable freight shipments has been the latest plan employed by the bootleggers in circumventing the prohibition law. Reeling privilege means that the consignee or the consignor has authority to break the car seal for the purpose of supplying fresh ice at a point between that of origin of the shipment and destination.

Since the Circuit Court of Appeals in the Fort Smith liquor case held the old federal law prohibiting the shipment of liquor into former Indian Territory to be in effect, the proposition of getting the goods in that section of Oklahoma in anything like desirable quantities has been something of a problem. lations persons are not only prohibited from receiving and possessing liquor there, but carriers are forbidden to accept it for transportation into the Indian district. Since delivery of the decision liquor has been taken in trunks, grips and by wagon from nearby interstate points.

In some localities jackpots have been made up and a messenger dispatched to the next state for a full supply of liquor. At other times the goods have been concentrated at a town across the State line, and from there freighted by wagon under guard into former Indian Territory. But of all devices the car-load shipment destined to be reeled at a point within the State furnished the most satisfactory way of getting a good supply on the ground.

First, there went a car load of liquor billed from Fort Smith to Kansas City via Muskogee. When the car reached destination the seal was perfect, but in making the inspection the railroad company staggered when it found the car as empty as the day it was made. A claim agent was dispatched with the way bill to consignee prepared to make an adjustment. The claim agent staggered when the consignee told him that the fact the car was empty was a mere detail, and not of sufficient importance to justify worrying. The consignee paid the freight bill, signed a release from the company and continued to smoke his cigar. The claim agent consulted the dream book to ascertain if it was true, notwithstanding he had the money in his hand. Two days later another car, as empty as the first, put in appearance, and when the freight bill was presented to the same consignee, he settled in full, and remarked that if claim agents were given to worrying have in sight, likewise devoid of contents, and then the railroad company began investigating. Every detail appeared to be regular, even to the dating of the way bill.

By way of explanation, it may be said that when a way bill reaches destination, and after passing through the hands of several freight crews, of two or more railroad lines, it bears a wealth of check signs, rubber stamp impressions and many finger prints. In searching the sheets more closely the agents found this legend: "Reeled at Muskogee." Shipments via that route immediately ceased.

As a varying detail of the scheme, instead of continuing shipments from Fort Smith to Kansas City, which of itself is unusual for liquor, they were switched from Joplin to Texas, and from Texas to Fort Smith. In tracing the liquor supply local officers found that instead of "reeling" the car under the privilege, the contents were being unloaded and hauled to town. Several arrests were made.

The Perpetual Change.
The things of the world are ever rising and falling, and in perpetual change; and this change must be according to the will of God, as he has bestowed upon man neither the wisdom nor the power to enable him to check it. The great lesson in these things is that man must strengthen himself doubly at such times to fulfill his duty, and to do what is right, and must seek his happiness and inward peace from objects which cannot be taken away from him.—Wilhelm von Humboldt.

For sixty years American housewives have found Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder a guarantee of light, pure and wholesome food.

AN EXAMPLE IT WOULD PAY ADA TO FOLLOW

The News-Herald job department is engaged in the production of a thirty-two page booklet, the contents of which presents an admirable description and pictorial review of the resources and investment attractiveness of the city of Shawnee and Pottawatomie county.

The publication of this rather comprehensive booklet is at the authorization of the Chamber of Commerce and its intelligent supervision is being attended to by Secretary Frank P. Stearns.

The Chamber of Commerce will distribute five thousand of these booklets and it is expected that the banks and progressive real estate men of the city will take advantage of the opportunity afforded and will subscribe for and distribute several thousand additional copies.—Shawnee News-Herald.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our many friends for their kind assistance in our griefs and trouble, through the death of husband and father, and also the kind ones who brought flowers and also Brother Anderson for the true words and sympathy spoken by him. May the Lord's richest blessings rest on them.

running was held. After a while two teams were picked from the squad and a regular game was held.

Bruce Ligon and Keltie Reese are both promising pitchers. We know Pat Jones, he twirled for us last year. Big Ben Parks is the star man for out-ner Ben is a big husky fellow with a dandy throwing arm. The man who steals second with him behind the bat will be going some.

Miss Spriggs has returned from Springfield, Mo., where she was called by the illness of her sister. We are glad to learn that her sister is now convalescent.

Arrangements are being made to get out an annual.

The model school will cultivate a school garden this spring under the direction of the department of agriculture.

The field work in geometry has been hindered somewhat by the bad weather. The class is doing practical work, such as plotting, finding elevations and the like. Mr. Pentem is in charge.

A card from Pres. Briles states that he is "doing St. Louis." He states also that he has met many old friends among whom is Herman Harold Horn of New York university who is being considered for the presidency of the University of Oklahoma. There is quite a sentiment among the students for more basket ball games. The team will resume practice today and other games will probably be scheduled. The university does not seem to want another game, at least they have said nothing about it. They must be afraid we'll get their goat again.

The first issue of the Oklahoma Magazine, successor to the Wide West, has reached the exchange table of the News. It is a very creditable specimen of periodical and one that deserves the patronage of the people of Oklahoma. Oklahoma is a rich field both for the historian and the romancer and it is up to the present generation to preserve as much of this material as possible, and a magazine is the best medium for the purpose. Other magazines have been founded in Oklahoma but died for want of support, but we hope to see the new venture prosper.

THE DAY IN THE DISTRICT COURT

The Indians, Harjo and Morgan, on trial yesterday afternoon on a charge of theft of animal, were acquitted by the jury.

Nathan Clark, charged with assault with intent to kill, was next put on trial. After the trial had made some progress and several witnesses had testified, the case was withdrawn from the jury and dismissed.

Charley Braddy, charged with grand larceny was next put on trial, and the case will probably be disposed of late in the afternoon.

WILL ORGANIZE DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Col. E. F. Wortham writes the News from Oklahoma City that he and Dr. A. Grant Evans, state secretary of the Democratic clubs, will be in Ada Saturday for the purpose of organizing a Democratic club at this place. The meeting will be at the city hall at 2 p. m. The principal feature will be an address on Democracy by Dr. Evans. Ladies especially invited.

BAILEY BOBBITT VICE PRESIDENT OF CLUBS

At the state convention it was determined to recognize the young men of the democratic party of Oklahoma into clubs and arouse their interest in the welfare of the party. In preparing for an effective organization a corps of state officers were chosen. Of these Bailey M. Bobbitt of Ada was elected vice-president of the Fourth congressional district, and it will be up to him to get the boys organized. As he is a hustler from the jump, and a democrat to the core, his selection was a good one and the young democrats of the district will be lined up as well as any bunch in the state.

George and Ed Harrison and J. F. Floyd have formed a partnership in the insurance, real estate and loan business. The new firm will be known as Harrison Bros. & Floyd, and will office in the Kellow building. All three are first class hustlers, and the prosperity of the new firm is assured from the beginning.

Bad Storm in Texas Panhandle.

Amarillo, Tex., Feb. 28.—The Texas Panhandle and this entire section of the Southwest is in the grip of another snowstorm which broke this afternoon with a forecast for one of the worst of the winter.

This state of affairs is looked upon as calamitous by stockmen, as many of the animals barely weathered the storm of last Sunday.

In the event the present storm proves as severe as the advance notice indicates, there will not only be heavy shrinkage but many deaths among range herds.

Notice to Parents.

Complaints have been made about the practice of small boys discharging rifles within the city limits. As the ordinance strictly forbids such, all cases reported in the future will be prosecuted and the parents of the boys held responsible.

R. H. HOUNSHELL,
Chief of Police.

THINK THIS OVER

This Offer Should Gain the Confidence of the Most Skeptical.

We pay for all the medicine used during the trial, if our remedy fails to completely relieve you of constipation. We take all the risk. You are not obligated to use in any way whatever, if you accept our offer. That's a mighty broad statement, but we mean every word of it. Could anything be more fair for you?

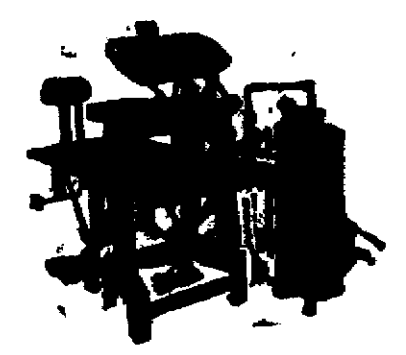

A most scientific, common-sense treatment is Rexall Orderlies, which are eaten like candy. Their active principle is a recent scientific discovery that is odorless, colorless, and tasteless; very pronounced gentle, and pleasant in action, and particularly agreeable in every way. This ingredient does not cause diarrhoea, nausea, flatulence, griping, or other inconvenience. Rexall Orderlies are particularly good for children, aged and delicate persons.

If you suffer from chronic or habitual constipation, or the associate or dependent chronic ailments, we urge you to try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Remember, you can get them in Ada only at our store—The Rexall Store—Gwin & Mays Drug Co.
